METHODIST WESLEYAN BIBLE CLASS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS.

The Men's Wesleyan Bible class of the Hendersonville Methodist church held a meeting on Thursday evening in the Methodist church to which they had invited visitors from the different Methodist churches of the county. Sixty visitors were present from the Edneyville, Mills River, Horse Shoe, East Flat Rock, Fletcher and Fruitland Sunday schools. A hymn was sung by the congregation and two anthems were sung by a quartette composed of Mesdames Drafts and Mrs. Liverett, Dr. Tebeau and J. D. Body, accompanied by the organist Mrs. Toms.

Vance Norwood, president of the class, delivered the address of welcome in which he brought out the fact that the Wesley Bible class was authorized by the Methodist conference in Asheville in May 1910. It was thought that an individual rather than an interdenominational name would be more significant and now Dr. Chas. D. Bulla of Nashville, Tenn., is superintendent of the work. Some of these classes, often composed of five or six hundred men, raise funds to take care of the sick and suffering; others support missionaries. The first gathering of a social nature of the Hendersonville Wesleyan Bible class took place three years ago. The order of exercises is always an opening hymn, a prayer, anthems or sacred songs, short addresses and refreshments.

The speaker stated that there is an indefinite amount of work that men can do if they will organize themselves and begin it, being mindful of the faith, truthfulness, and obedience of Abraham, the obedience of Moses, and the determination of Peter and John, never ceasing to dwell in love. M. D. Coburn, speaking on organization, stated that the divine plan is that men should assist in carrying out the will of God and that perfect organization is necessary to secure the greatest results. Benefits of the Sunday school to a young man was the subject of the address by Hal M. Whitfield who stated that association moulds character and that in Sunday school a young man finds salutary association. E. S. Weimer in speaking of what a man's Bible class ought to be, said that boys leave Sunday school too early because their fathers are not there and it is particularly important that young men should be guided through the period from seventeen to twenty-one. Denny Starnes, whose subject was the Bible class for young men, said that a young man is a "bundle of possibilities" and that the Bible class will tide him over the stormy period while he is emerging from the boy that was into the man that is to be. The Sunday school affords opportunities for the development of both our spiritual and social natures and is the training school for those who are to carry on the work of the church. J. C. Sales made a very instructive address on the benefits of the Sunday school to the rural church. He stated that 90 per cent of the increase in rural church membership came through the Sunday school; that it is hard to save a man; the time to get him is a boy.

After the speaking every one was given an opportunity to meet all the visitors and a delightful salad course with saltines and coffee followed by several varieties of cake and punch was served in an adjoining room.

EAST FLAT ROCK BIBLE CLASS ENJOY MEETING HERE.

We, the men's class of the East Flat Rock Methodist Sunday School, wish to take this opportunity of extending our thanks for the way we were entertained by the Wesleyan Bible Class of the Methodist church of Hendersonville, the evening of March 23rd.

First, We enjoyed to the fullest extent, the address of welcome, which we felt was made from a heart full of enthusiasm, and which was rendered in such a way as to make us feel that we were welcome to the fullest extent of the word.

Second, We enjoyed to the extent of our mental ability, the addresses so ably rendered by a number of our Methodist brethren of Hendersonville, and of Henderson county. These speeches, though clothed in the most beautiful language and oratory that would do honor to the House of Congress, we felt, were not made simply to entertain, but to elevate humanity and to inspire men in the work of the Master. The music was enjoyed to the fullest extent of our ability to comprehend.

Third, The bounteous refreshments which were so daintily served by the good ladies of the church were also enjoyed to the fullest extent of our appetites which were good.

But the grandest thing in our opinion is the fact that we were brought in contact with the men of Hendersonville and Henderson county, enlarging our ideas of Sunday school work and the importance of same and the spiritual feeling which we caught from coming in contact with our brother Sunday school workers.

We join with our brother who said that he enjoyed every moment to the fullest extent, and that it was the grandest success he had ever known.

May we have many such meetings, and may the work increase as never before.

Fraternalty yours,
METHODIST BIBLE CLASS
